

Local Houston Farmer's Markets

These markets sell locally grown fruit and vegetables, locally raised meats, locally made prepared foods, eggs, honey and items such as handcrafted soap. Nationally, farmers markets usually define "local" as grown within 150 miles. In Houston and surroundings, individual markets operate under their own guidelines with respect to local, organic, pesticide-free, etc. Ask before you buy. Also, farmers markets have struggled to establish a foothold here. Over time, some have suspended indefinitely, folded or moved. It's worth checking the Web sites for the latest information.
